

Pastor René's Prophetic Word For 2018

It is time for the body to come out of hiding. You are a city set on a hill for all to see. You have been shrouded in the grave clothes of half-truths and lukewarm hearts long enough. I am calling you forth as Lazarus and removing your grave clothes. Those who are willing to experience the discomfort and persecution of true freedom will begin to see more of Me this year. Do not listen to those that say trouble will subside for truly it is on the rise. Do not find comfort in false hope, rather find comfort in My Word and My promises that come forth in the midst of tribulation. For I am about to cause a shift that will bring the sting of persecution for the bold but remember there is no roar that is louder than the whisper of My word for I will avenge those that will walk in My ways and boldly declare My Word says the Lord.

I am calling you forth as gold and as gold I will continue to purify you. For there is a day coming when fingers will begin to point and they must find nothing in you to support their claims.

I am calling forth the light of the world to begin to declare and decree that which I desire to establish. Call it forth in yourself and in your nation for I am calling forth lost dreams and sleeping seed. I am causing dormant seed to rattle within you this year and will place around you that which is needed to produce the fruit I have carefully placed with in it.

I am resurrecting lost hope and forgotten promises. I am bringing home the backsliders and setting the captives free. This will truly be a year of abundant growth and fruitfulness for those that cling to me.

I am calling forth your voice to declare the ever-increasing testimony of My goodness and My glory.

I want your tongue in 2018. I want your words to align with mine. Do away with grumbling and complaining, for it continues to be the ties that bind. Do away with backbiting and gossip. Instead find my heart for others and let the light of My word shine through you. The release of My light in you will cause much fruit to abound around you.

What right do light and darkness have to dwell together. What good can the darkness of ill spoken words and thoughts bring. For I plan to loose the bonds of depression from those that choose the light of My Word over the despair of darkness in this hour says the Lord.

For truly the enemy has bound many of My children but I say to you this day arise and walk for the light of My Word will show you that I have defeated the enemy and have stripped him of his power. For I have transferred to you the power of resurrection and life that is in My Word.

I am calling forth the sword of the Spirit that some have set aside and deemed useless for truly these ones have been duped into believing that darkness prevails over light. But I say unto you that darkness can only exist where light is not present.

IN 2018 I SAY LET THERE BE LIGHT!
