

The 2021 Prophetic Word for TOTCM

Pastor René McIntyre

This year the remnant will become more visible than in years past. There will be a surge of resistance a surge of pushing back. It will begin to become clear who the remnant really is, who follows me whole heartedly or who falls to lingering carnality.

Beware of sin that used to have you bound, for many of you it will try to resurrect and spin you round and round.

There is a big storm coming that will not easily subside. The remnant will be able to weather the storm, leading people to safety and helping others hide. The remnant will not back away from the trials that lie in wait, they will face them head on and pay the price they need to pay.

There will be a falling away of some of those that have not rooted themselves into my kingdom, that have not allowed my kingdom to be rooted deep within. They will grasp and clutch at things that cannot save, they will wonder why everything seems to slip away. Others will heed my call to repent and turn and my hand of protection will be put back in place.

While the world is calling for the great reset, I have been calling for a great rebuilding. For I have called for a rebuilding of the altar and of the temple. I have called for the builders to rebuild the wall of righteousness that guards the land from enemy onslaught. There has been a breach in the wall around this nation and I am looking once again for the intercessors to step up their game. I am calling for intercession to become the driving force of my plans. Intercession is and always will be your greatest chance at greater victory. I am looking for a people that can see beyond their own earthly ambition and comfort to fight against the demonic threats plotted against future generations. You have been short sighted, and I am going to increase your ability to see farther into this generation's evil plans. I am looking for a people that will stand with conviction and morality, that will fight and be found in faith. Long gone is the ease of the day where abundance abounds all around. The thief will come to strip you down, but I will keep you in place. Now are the days you must sacrifice for those that are coming after you. I am looking for a people that will cry out for Me to have mercy on this nation, so I won't release the judgement it deserves. I am still looking to give a stay of judgement, but time is running out.

For far too long many prophets and preachers have cried peace peace instead of crying out for repentance and righteousness. (Ezekiel 13:5,10-12) They have done little to repair the breaks in the walls that surround the nation, and many have remained silent concerning the hour that they live in. They have not helped it to stand firm in battle on the day of the lord. There will continue to be a great sifting and shaking because these wayward prophets and preachers deceived my people by saying, "all is peaceful when there is no peace at all. It is as if the people have built a flimsy wall, and these prophets and preachers are trying to reinforce it with whitewash! Tell these white washers that their wall will soon fall down and then the people will ask what happened to your whitewash." National peace is not on the rise, for war is no longer hidden by disguise. It may look different than bombs and guns, but the enemy has launched an all-out assault and campaign that has the potential to leave many casualties and so much pain.

The darker the days become the harder it will be for many to see. Get your light shining bright now to lead the way in those days.

Like in Noah's day it took him many years to build the ark and all the while he preached repent and warned of my coming judgement, yet only a small remnant was saved. People kept busy about their lives only worrying about themselves and indulging in carnality and sinful behaviours, losing sight of what truly matters. In these last days there will be very difficult times. For people will love only themselves and their money. They will be boastful and proud, scoffing at God, disobedient to their parents, and ungrateful. They will consider nothing sacred. They will be unloving and unforgiving; they will slander others and have no self-control. They will be cruel and hate what is good. They will betray their friends, be reckless, be puffed up with pride, and love pleasure rather than God. They will act religious, but they will reject the power that could make them godly. 2

Timothy 3:1-5

My end time timeline will only accelerate with the more my people tolerate. I will continue to cleanse the pulpit and the prophetic and the sound you will hear will become much clearer. It will be repent and turn from your wicked ways. It will be get ready and be made strong, prepare for battle, take up your arms. Many of My people have not been equipped with Kingdom vision or Kingdom mission or the ability to stand let alone fight, but in this season, you will become battle ready or you will risk being set aside.

For far too long, and for far too many, church has been like a pool of refreshing but was not a place of crushing, of purifying or of training. The altar was a place of receiving my blessings but not a place of sacrifice. I require sacrifice from my people. Sacrifice of worship in spirit and in truth, sacrifice of crushing, a sacrifice of holiness, of obedience, of consecration, of separation and of sacrificial love. While so many waded in the pool of refreshing, which I was happy to give them, they played, danced, and twirled while evil multiplied underground. Many of my people were found completely ignoring the evil that had been creeping in. Evil has multiplied underground and in dark corners of society, but it is now out in the open. Still, many do not have eyes to see because their eyes are on themselves instead of on me.

For those that have ears to hear and walk in my ways I will refine you like silver, purify you like gold and strengthen you like timber. I will take every glowing ember and fan it into a great and mighty flame. I will be your stronghold and your deep-seated inner peace. I will keep you calm in chaos and bring you joy while others weep. You will grow in deep compassion for sinners and for sheep. You will learn to rejoice when others cannot understand, you will build with me my master Kingdom plan. Remember that I have my own set of builder's tools, a plumb line of justice and a measuring line of righteousness. You will have a trowel in one hand and a sword in another. In this season I will train your hands for war and your fingers for battle. So, rise now and take your stance. Get your feet firmly planted and your heart cleansed and established in me. I will ask of you tough things this year. But know that I am always with you, I will go with you into battle. Stick close to each other, you will need each other's strength. Open your arms and let others in. Do not close the door or fasten the gate. (Unify with other like minded)
